HISTORIC WALKING TOUR OF FRISCO

1 FRISCO HISTORIC PARK & MUSEUM

Located at 120 Main St., this historic property features 11 buildings. The Frisco Schoolhouse is the entry into the park and was originally built in its current location in 1899. It operated as a schoolhouse well into the twentieth century and originated as a saloon. The free museum is open to the public and is the best place to start your historic tour of Frisco.

2 OLD TOWN HALL

Located at 3rd Avenue & Main St., this building was originally built as Frisco's Town Hall in the 1890s. The location was used for local government as well as a community center and meeting place for dances and potluck dinners. The Town of Frisco now uses the building as the Visitor Information Center.

3 FOOTE'S REST

Located between 5th & 6th Avenue on Main St., this property once served as Frisco's Post Office, general store, and gas station. The main building was a single room wood-plank cabin and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Before it was called Foote's Rest it was known as Wildhack's, after Louis Wildhack, who built the original cabin and operated the Post Office there.

4 STALEY-ROUSE HOUSE

Located at 518 Main St. next to Foote's Rest, this building represents a unique style of pioneer log construction incorporating vertical and horizontal logs. Construction of the home began in 1909, but the original owner never moved in. He died in a drunken wagon accident on the road between Breckenridge and Frisco before the home's completion. This building is on the Colorado Register of Historic Places.

5 FRISCO CEMETERY

Located next to the Frisco Bay Marina and bike path, this is the resting place for many local historic figures.

6 LUND HOUSE & DILLON RESERVOIR

This historic ranch house was originally located on Galena Street in Frisco and belonged to a Swedish family. The building was relocated to the Frisco Bay Marina now overlooking Dillon Reservoir and what used to be the Town of Dillon. The building now serves as the Marina's main office.

7 MASONTOWN

A historic mining settlement that supported 100 residents is located at the foot of Mount Royal near the recreation path on the South Side of Frisco. There are many rumors about the town: an avalanche occurred in 1912 that was caused by a raucous New Year's Eve Party, and bootleggers used to brew moonshine during Prohibition. On this moderate hike you will discover remnants of the old settlement that closed for good after a 1926 avalanche.

8 COKE OVENS

Located near the County Commons, south of Frisco on the recreation path, which used to be the railroad bed, you will see remnants of the kiln type ovens used to produce coal between 1885 and 1910.
